

Call yourself up to Read Torah at Beth El

Have you ever wished you could read from the Torah?
Do you have a special occasion coming up? An important birthday, or an anniversary? Perhaps you'd like to honor the memory of a loved one.

You can commemorate any of those events by reading Torah!
If you want to have an Aliyah on Shabbat, but don't know how to start, we have many ways to help.

There is a process for coming forward to Torah & we can assist you at each step!

CHOOSE

- A date Pick a date to read, depending on a special event, remembrance of a loved one, or just a good open date for you to celebrate Shabbat morning with us.
- Verses Email Toby Kopman or call her or 978-610-6397 to set the date and choose Torah verses. Toby is always glad to help in choosing verses, based on the Hebrew words, meaning of verses and your level of ability or comfort. Remember, you can read more, but you only need to read three verses!

STUDY

- A recording Ask Toby, Beth Schine or Lorel for an mp3 recording of your verses, to get the auditory part of your learning going!
- Text Receive a copy of the text from Toby or Lorel: Hebrew, English, transliteration – all are available. Plus a tikkun practice Torah page will help you see how your verses look in the Torah.

LEARN

- Independently Figure out the best way you learn and spend a little time each day reading, listening, practicing. It's a great mindfulness activity!
- With help Check in with Joan Makepeace, Beth or Lorel for help with reading or chanting.

We are here and ready to help and encourage!
